

and of Christian RE teachers to be the best educators they can, to the glory of God, under the authority of the state, and for the benefit of the children.

This booklet raises several important issues, not all of which have answers. It makes a number of helpful points, and is useful for helping non-teaching Christians to understand what is happening in RE in schools, and for alerting them to some of the problems being faced by Christian RE teachers, many of whom would say they are called by God to this work, and who need the understanding, support and prayers of their fellow Christians in their local church. The booklet can be read with profit by pastors, parents and other interested church members as well as by the teachers themselves.

Mr Chris Hess BA DipEd is Deputy Headteacher, Glan-y-Môr Comprehensive School, Burry Port, Dyfed and Secretary of the Association of Christian Teachers of Wales.
